[Letter, Mary H. Abel to Ethel Field Brooks]

1911 June 15

BOX 1 FOLDER 11

32 Eliot Street
Jamaica Plain, Mass.

15 June 1911

My dear Mrs. Brooks:-

I am staying a few days here in Professor Richards' house working over Mrs. Richards' papers, my part being the October number of the Journal which will be in the form of a memorial to her and giving the history of the Home Economics movement.

Will you kindly tell me the full name and address of the Mr. Turner who did the work on the Lake Placid volume which you and I brought out in 1907? My memory is that he was Mr. Ross Turner and a graduate of the Institute but we do not find his name in the catalog.

I am told that you have furnished a wealth of material and I hope to have the time to go over it before I leave.

I hope that you and your good husband are flourishing and the little people also. Please address me at Randolph, N.H.

Yours with love,

Mary H. Abel.
